OF CLEARWATER HIGH SCHOOL

welcomes you

OUR TOWN

CLEARWATER • FLORIDA

our days were busy from morning 'till night . . .

foreword

Dear to each of our hearts now, and in the future, is the beautiful town on the Gulf where memories were made. Who could ask for a place more wonderful in which to grow up? Because of our appreciation of Clearwater and our desire to remember it as it is now, we would like to devote our book to the many phases of our teenage life in OUR TOWN.

And so you who are young and anxious for tomorrow—and you who are fondly opening your old annual years later—take a little time out from the present and just turn the pages and remember . . .

CLEGG MAC ALEENAN

Because high school years are difficult ones, we appreciate someone who is easy to turn to when one needs understanding and help or simply someone who, during our everyday routine, passes you with a warm smile. These are the people who keep us encouraged and help in making the memory of our Alma Mater a treasure. Such a person is Mrs. Clegg Mac Aleenán. One can always count on her even temper and good humor. These have certainly been an asset to her during her years serving as advisor to the annual staff. Afternoons and weekends for Mrs. Mac Aleenán are often spent helping the staff put together our Aqua Clara. And can you imagine anyone having to go through the rough times, pressured dead lines and all that photography every year!

Thank you, Mrs. Mac Aleenán. May this annual be a symbol of appreciation to you from the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-two.

Students:

Now, as in the future, when you turn the pages of this AQUA CLARA, may they cause you to dream with your eyes wide open. These words and pictures have been put into a book with the intent to make you quite oblivious of your immediate surroundings, as memories of high school days brush all else aside.

May all who look upon these pages see evidence of acts of chivalry, intellectual and physical accomplishments, gentle and virtuous deeds by which some of you rose to honor.

Herein you will also be reminded of many joyous incidents which will lead you to recall others too numerous to be contained in this volume.

Lastly, may this yearbook serve as a mirror for you to see yourself as not only what you were but also what you might have been and what you can still become.

William Makepeace Thackeray penned the words: "The world is a looking glass and gives back to every man the reflection of his own face."

Sincerely,

Robert Glenn

Much can be learned about a person by the way he expresses himself in both writing and speech. We are particularly proud of the English Department here at C.H.S. During his three years of this subject, the student is given extensive instruction in grammar, writing, and literary appreciation which will prove invaluable in any field of endeavor. Besides the usual studies found in the high school English Department, this school has placed great emphasis on creative writing. For the second year, a literary magazine is being presented which contains original works of the students. Also, for the first time, an Advanced Writing class is being offered in which students are coached in the fine art of creative writing for one semester. The second semester is a continuation of the Advanced Writing plus a look at some of the world's finest literature.

History, a study of the past, is one of the most important subjects offered in any school. It is only through an analytical study of the past that we see our mistakes and learn how to avoid the same ones in the future. Offered in C.H.S. are World History, a general study of the world's inhabitants from the time of the Fertile Crescent to the present, and American History, a study of America's great heritage. Offered also are such related subjects as American Government, Psychology, and Economics. Recent additions to an already comprehensive Social Studies Department include T.V. instruction in World and American History.

Clearwater High is most fortunate in having a fine and modern Mathematics Department. Courses vary from tenth-grade Math to Mrs. Johnson's ultra-modern course in Algebra III and Trigonometry in which she is using a text which she has written. A student who participates in the Math courses offered at C.H.S. can expect to obtain an excellent background in Mathematics which will enable him to follow any line of Math in college.

Because of the increased demand for young people in the many fields of science, C.H.S. offers a complete and comprehensive science program. Offered courses include: both traditional and advanced P.S.S.C. Physics plus a recently added Beginning Physics, a one semester course following one semester of either Chemistry II or Biology II; Chemistry I, a general survey of inorganic, colloidal, and industrial chemistry but placing more emphasis on accepted theories and principles; Biology I, an attempt to satisfy the common curiosities and wonderings of young people about living things; T.V. Biology, an excellent course enhanced and made more vivid through the miracle of television; Biology II, a one semester course offered to juniors and seniors who have completed Biology I and Chemistry I; and finally, Physiology, a very fine study of the human body, offered to Seniors who have scored "B" or better in past science courses.

Physical Education is sometimes slighted as a snap course, but it is actually one of the most important courses which can be offered. Students learn the right way to exercise in maintaining a healthy body. They also have an opportunity to learn several sports and to discover any athletic ability which they might possess. The coaches certainly deserve much credit for the great job they do not only in the instruction of physical education, but also in the encouragement of good sportsmanship.

MARJORIE KANN,
McKendree College,
So. Ill. U., A.B., Latin
II, III, IV, Inter Nos.

At Clearwater High three popular foreign languages are offered. Those students with a flare for Greek and Roman mythology are extended four years of Latin, the basis for all other Romance languages.

MILDRED TURNER,
Rollins College, U. of Columbia, U. of Florida, A.B., Spanish I, II, III, IV, Los Gauchos.

Probably because of the Latin-American influence in this area, Spanish is the most popular alien language offered. By the time a student has completed his four years of Spanish he is usually able to converse fluently and understand this language well.

JANET WELLER, Hood
College, A.B., French
I and II, French Club.

A recent addition to the Language Department is French which has been warmly and enthusiastically received here at C.H.S. A second year of this language is now being offered with plans for a possible third year next year.

music department

In charge of the Music Department's vocal section is Mr. Paul Butler. He is the very talented director of the Mixed Chorus, the Madrigal Singers, and Girls' Glee Club, all of which perform frequently and admirably at school programs and other competitive musical functions.

Directing the instrumental section of the Music Department is Mr. Yanetovich and what a remarkable job he has done with the Crimson Tornado Band! His great efforts to place a first class band on the field culminated in last year's sensational victory in which the band won a first place rating on a national scale in Washington. Also under the direction of Mr. Yanetovich are the Clearwater High Concert Orchestra and the Tornado Cadet Band.

VALERIE CHAMBERLAIN, University of Vermont, Graduate work at Cornell Univ., B.S. in Home Economics, Home-making I, Future Homemakers.

Girls at C.H.S. are most fortunate in having the opportunity to participate in a very fine Home Economics Program. In addition to the usual sewing and cooking instruction, special emphasis is placed on those skills which make a good homemaker. Such subjects include child care, housing and interior decorating, family relationship, home nursing and a host of other useful and helpful instructions which will benefit a girl no matter what career she chooses.

RUSSELL D. STICHLER, Western Mich. U., U. of Fla., B.S., M.A.E., Industrial Arts.

Our Industrial Arts program includes General Woodworking, Arts and Crafts, and Mechanical Drawing. Woodworking students learn to design and construct products in wood. By use of academic activity in conjunction with laboratory work, projects are designed, their construction studied and the project produced. These tasks are accomplished by hand and machine processes.

The Arts and Crafts course aims primarily to develop basic undertakings and skills through working with ceramics, leather, copper enameling, copper tooling, and other materials. It includes the development of an ability to use leisure time by filling it with self-satisfying work.

Mechanical Drawing has been called the "language of industry" and engineers, architects, and designers use it to record their ideas. Mechanical Drawing teaches visual and constructive imagination and the habit of exact thinking.

CAROLYN SHEPHERD, FSU, B.A., Spanish I, Spanish II, Speech I, and Journalism, Sponsor Clearlight.

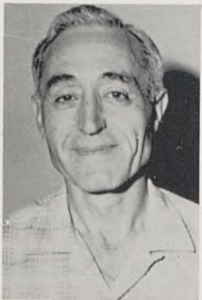

Furthermore . . .

The Speech Department at C.H.S. is one of the finest in the state. In addition to learning the methods of thought organization, the student also learns to speak more effectively and proficiently. A first and second year Speech are offered to all students, but Debate is for selected students only. Among the students' activities are National Forensic League Congresses, and weekend Debates held throughout the area. Other competitive facets of the subject include extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, and dramatic interpretation.

drivers' education

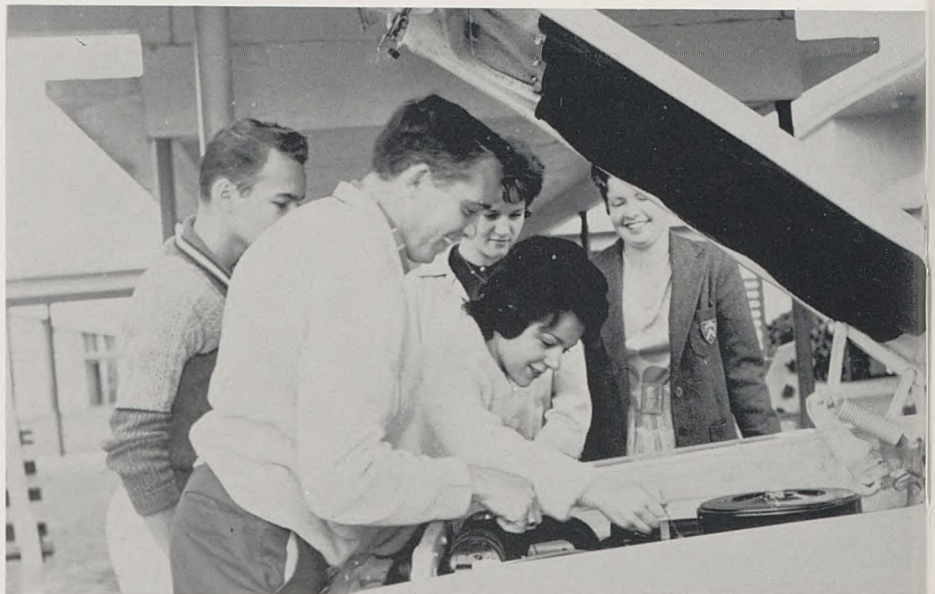

Teaching the vital responsibilities encountered in the operation of an automobile is the principal purpose of the Drivers' Education Department. In addition to actual driving instruction on the road, education is supplemented by class study.

diversified cooperative training

JOHN ROBERTS, Ball State Teachers College, B.S., M.A., D.C.T.

Diversified Cooperative Training provides working and learning situations for those high school Juniors and Seniors who are interested in positions in trade areas such as machine shop practice, electronics, radio and television servicing, auto mechanics, dental assistants and many others. As in the other classifications, these students complete the high school graduation requirements while working one-half day.

distributive education

The Distributive Education cooperative program allows Juniors and Seniors to work in positions involving selling merchandise or service. These students also have the opportunity to learn while they earn and must attend school one-half day to complete the required graduation subjects.

MARGARET L. McDANIEL, Woman's College, U.N.C., F.S.U., Emory U., A.B., M.A., Asst. Librarian, Jr. Red Cross, Library Club.

The library facilities at C.H.S. are available to students anytime during the day and on certain evenings. Whether the student is frantically searching reference materials for an eleventh hour report or merely an enjoyable book with which to relax, he is certain to locate what he wants with the help of our very efficient library staff. The library is also the center of audio-visual materials used by teachers to enrich classroom lessons. We are indeed fortunate to also have a very complete college section in the library.

The Reading classes, instructed by Mrs. Krug, are of two types—College Reading for the students who wish to broaden their interest in the world of books, and Remedial Reading for the purpose of helping students better understand what they read. Both Reading courses are one semester.

ELLEN JAY KRUG, U. of Ky., A.B., M.A., Reading, Public Relations.

Coach Karr gives us some of "the other."

It is a self evident fact and we feel a great tribute to the students of our school that this year's school spirit soared to terrific heights and was warmly felt in all fields of athletics.

Our football team, although greatly hampered by a lack of depth, put forth one of its best seasons. The running and passing attacks were combined with excellent line work to highlight a most successful season.

The Tornadoes Basketball squad, restricted by the fact that not a single letterman was in uniform, surged through its season leaving in its wash many thrilling upsets of powerful teams. A great personal effort was demonstrated by each player and Coach Karr certainly did a fine job in his first year as mentor of the team.

As the annual went to press, the baseball team was preparing for its first contest of the season and was featuring a sparkling defense, consistent hitting, and a fine team spirit. It looks like a good year for the baseball team.

The track team was getting ready for its first meet and a great season on a fine new asphalt track. The team looked very good, with skilled runners, jumpers, and weight men and 1962 promises to be a record-breaking year for The Tornadoes track team.

Exceptional putting and driving highlighted an impressive Golf team at C.H.S. The team looks set to offer stiff competition in a tough Western Conference!

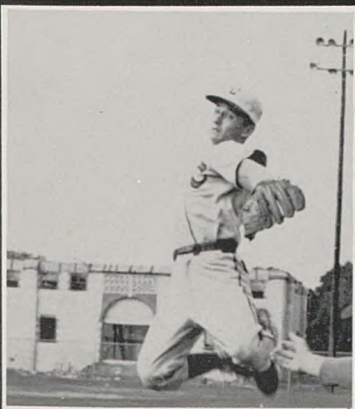

For several years now, C.H.S. has placed one of the finest Boys' Swimming Teams in the state and this year promises to be no exception. All but two of last year's starters have returned and it looks very good for the Swimming Team.

The Girls' Swimming team, under Mrs. McCracken, looks very smooth, and they're expected to pose a threat to opposing Conference teams. The team has some fine young Sophomores in the field who will support the returning varsity swimmers in good measure.

Honoring the Boys' Tennis team this year is foreign exchange student, Luis Pina, who is expected to be the shot in the arm needed to boost an already excellent squad. It looks very good for the Tennis team.

The Girls' Tennis team is showing great power thus far in the season and are expected to place high in the Conference standings.

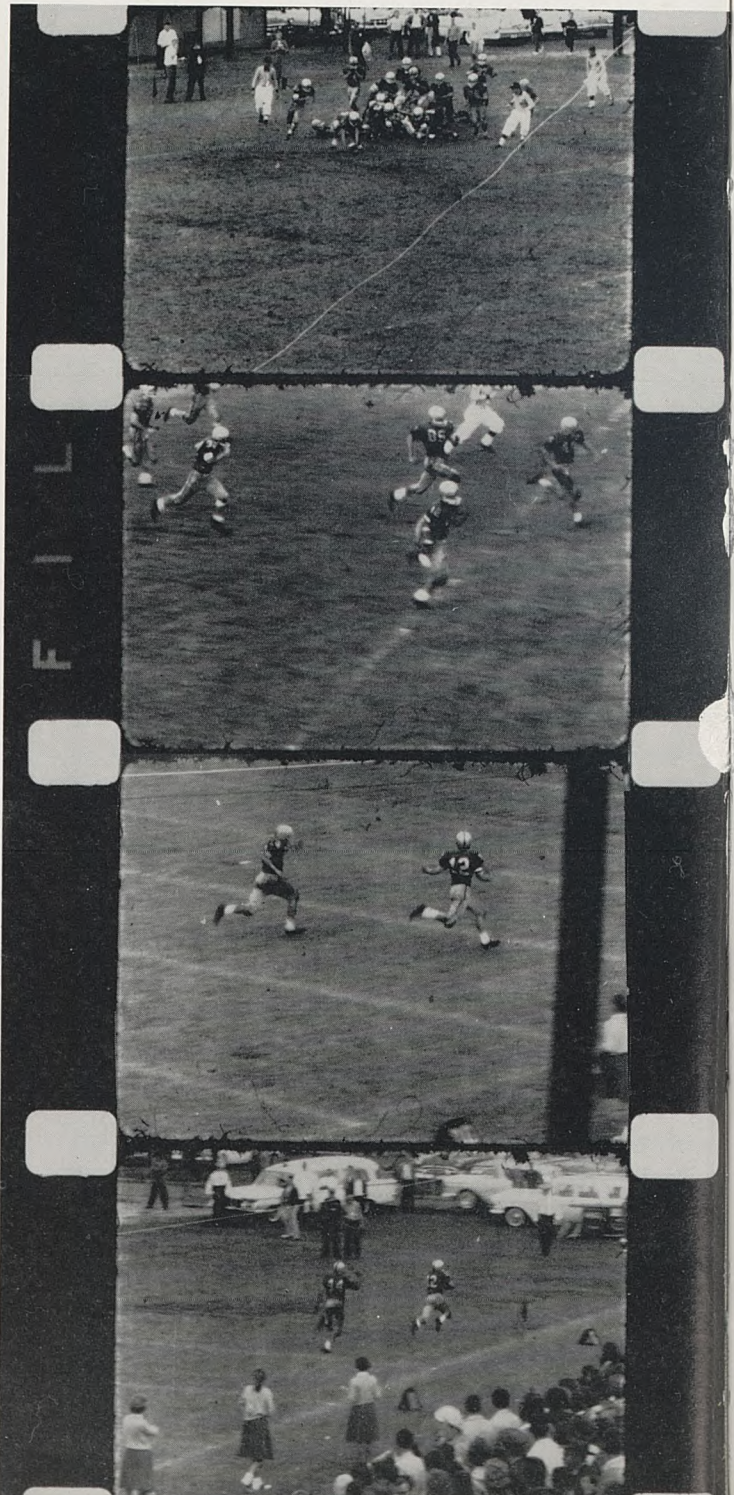

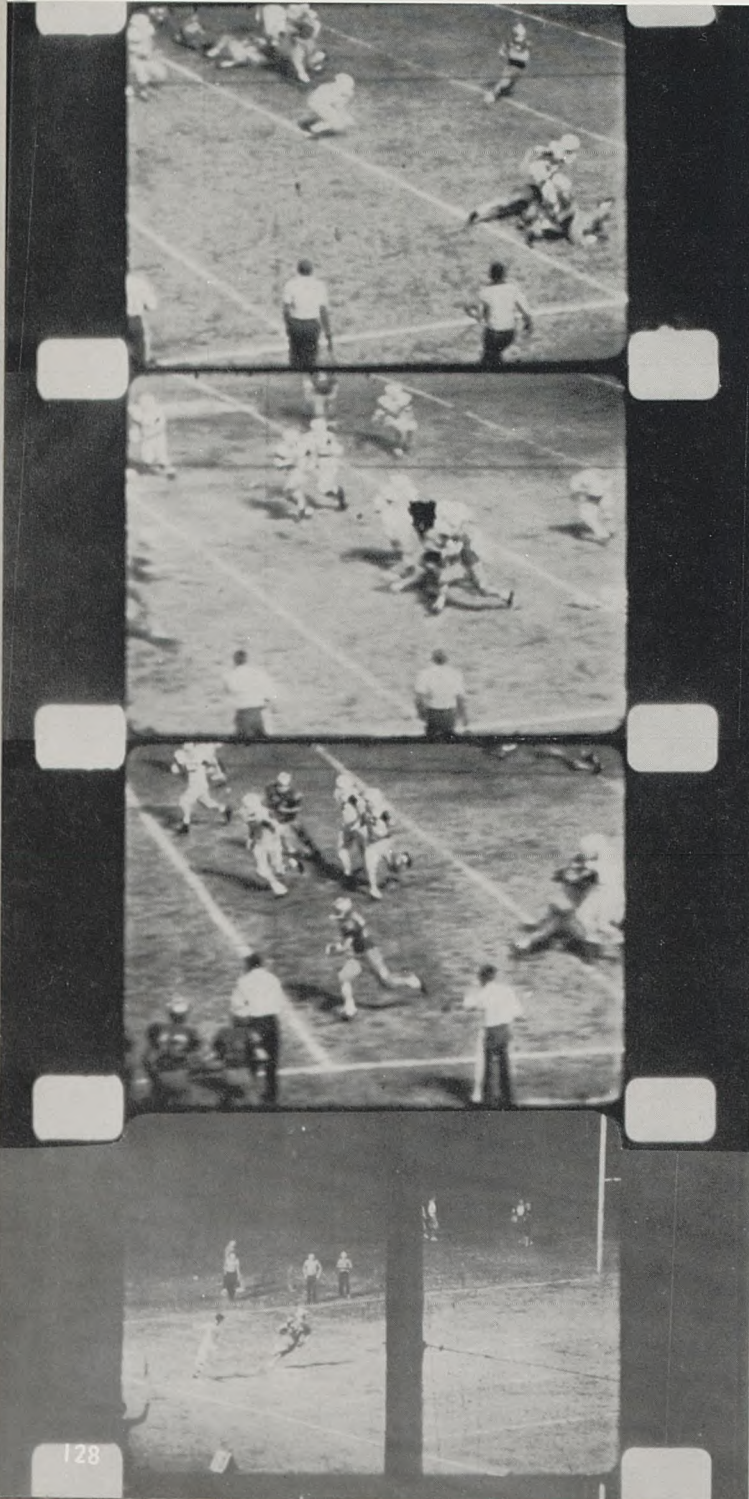

Thus, the 1961-62 school year at C.H.S. is proving to be a realization of the hopes of her students. The student body has been most receptive and enthusiastic about the sports program and a warm feeling tingled in all students as they cheered both in victory and in defeat for their gallant Tornadoes of C.H.S.

Jim Page scoops up the ball on the 25 yard line, picks up his blockers and charges the remaining length of the field for the touchdown, eluding several would-be Fort Myers tacklers.

In the Thanksgiving Day Game with Largo, Bruce Cochran, #12, thrills the Tornado fans with a sparkling 97 yard touchdown run.

The 1961 Tornadoes' Football squad produced several outstanding individual athletes. Recognized for superior ability and chosen for both all-conference and all-county teams were: Jim Page, Mike Steeves, and Robert McClung. Selected for the second team of the all state squad was our tremendous halfback, Jim Page. Chosen for Honorable Mention on the Wigwam All-American Team were Jim Page and Jim Gonatos.

To the right, Jim Page shows the versatility which made him the outstanding halfback he was.

The festive Homecoming Parade kindles the true C.H.S. spirit.

The cheerleaders prepare for the big game.

Homecoming festivities for 1961 commenced with a colorful down-town parade. Many excellent floats and cars were entered by the various clubs and organizations of the school and all the students participated enthusiastically. Then came Tornado Tales at which the Homecoming Queen, Miss Betty Lou Anderson, was revealed to the students for the first time. Following this ceremony came a fine array of Homecoming skits devoted to the theme, "Wreck the Rebs." As a novelty attraction to this year's Homecoming, the "C" Club sponsored a carbeat in which students mutilated an old auto with a sledge hammer. Then followed the most impressive affair of Homecoming, the big game with Dixie Hollins. The Tornadoes were pre-game underdogs, but proceeded to Rout the Rebels and emerged from the gruelling contest victorious. The final festivity was the wonderful dance in which the queen, lovely Betty Lou, and her court were presented to the exhilarated students. In summary, Homecoming 1961 was a grand success and will long be remembered at C.H.S.

"Hey Kat, what's new?"

"Now, that's not the way I heard it."

Spain and Germany have loaned our school two wonderful teenagers. It is difficult to express the pleasure of having them here. Luis and Dorthea have not been considered "exchange students," but popular members of the C.H.S. student body. When they return to their native lands, they will be deeply missed by everyone.

dorthea vahl of west germany

Most of all I remember the people . . . the Turks were kind and generous in all they did. Each one of them took the time to talk to me, and each was eager to share his thoughts as well as his possessions. My Turkish family made sacrifices for my sake; more than that, they made me a real part of their activities and their life. The kids went out of their way to see that I was having a nice time. They bothered to explain things to me when I didn't understand. Someone was always ready to tell me about the confusing customs or to translate the language.

It was hard for me to leave the people who had come to be my family and friends for a summer. Someday, Insallah (God willing), I'll see again the people who have given me so much.

Jo Ann Cummings

I had my chance last year. My eight months in New Zealand were the most rewarding and exciting of my life. I adored the people because they were so friendly and hospitable. I now have two families, two sets of friends, two countries, and a new outlook on myself.

It gives me a tingly feeling to think that I can travel half way around the world and find a country as beautiful and as free as my own. "Walk together, talk together, oh ye peoples of the earth; then, and only then, will we have peace."
